Former Speaker of the House and General Chairman of American Solutions Newt Gingrich, announced today the appointment of Mr. H. James Harrington to the Advisory Board of his Jobs and Prosperity Task Force.

The Jobs and Prosperity Task Force is comprised of the most successful and accomplished business leaders and entrepreneurs in America. The Task Force will focus on Jobs Here, Jobs Now, Jobs First.

"We've given Washington a chance. It has failed miserably and has proven to be so inept at job creation that our unemployment rate, as President Obama himself said, "blew past" his own administration's projection of 8%. Now it's time for the people who know how to create jobs and prosperity, know what it means to stick to a budget and make payroll ---the business leaders of this country---to come together and clean up this mess," Mr. Gingrich said.

"And we're thrilled to have Mr. Harrington on board as we begin the work to get this economy back on track."

As an Advisory Board Member, Mr. Harrington will be invited to Washington for strategy sessions and events where he will discuss ways of turning American economic problems around with tried, true and battle tested solutions that have been used in successful businesses.

American Solutions for Winning the Future, founded by Speaker Gingrich is a unique tri-partisan organization designed to rise above traditional gridlocked partisanship, to provide real, significant solutions to the most important issues facing our country.
